From Geoffrey's Desk . . .

As I write, I have just recently finished eating a wonderful holiday meal with the Ladies Class. Before eating, several of us delivered meals and fruit baskets to various people's homes. The lunch (with accompanying desserts!) was delicious, and I enjoyed the time together. I want to thank the Ladies Class for all they do throughout the year. That group is an important part of this church family, and a tremendous amount of wisdom is represented in that gathering each week. Not only is the class active in study, but it is active in prayer, as well. I encourage everyone who can take part to seriously consider finding your place in that gathering each week.

This coming Sunday, we will be in the second chapter of Luke as we continue to look at events surrounding the birth of Christ. Last week, we spent some time with the Magnificat (Mary's "song"), and this next week, we will look at Mary and Joseph's encounter with a prophet by the name of Simeon. I will look forward to seeing you then.
